GOD GIVES JACOB A NEW NAME

Sunday School Lesson for April 14, 1907

Specialty prepared for this paper.

LESSON TEXT.—Gen. 22:3-12, 22-26; memory verses, 22-25.

GOLDEN TEXT.—"Jacob, because your name was written in heaven."—Luke 10:20.

TIME.—Jacob went to Padan-aram about 170 B. C., when he was about 12 years old. Perhaps the best authorities consider that he was in Laban's service for 20 years, but others, finding too little space in 20 years for all the recorded events, reckon it 40 years, understanding the "20 years" twice mentioned in Gen. 21:34-41 to be two periods of 20 years each. See Excurse on the chronology in El-Hoot.

PLACE.—The Jabbok (the modern Wady Zerka) is one of the principal rivers of eastern Palestine. It flows into the Jordan from the east nearly opposite the city of Samaria. Pundit or Pundit "was probably a prominent ridge near the Jabbok."—George Adam Smith.

Comment and Suggestive Thought.

Hints from Haran.—Jacob was 20 years or more in Haran. During that time he had a good opportunity to learn thoroughly a number of important lessons; among them these:

1. That tricksters are likely to get tricked in their turn.
2. That God can and will bring prosperity to any child of his without the aid of sharp practice on the part of the man whom God helps.
3. That God's promises are to be relied upon implicitly, no matter how circumstances may seem to be opposing the fulfillment of them.
4. That God's law assigns one wife to one husband, and that any infringement of that law brings only unhappiness.

Jacob's Troubled Conscience.—Gen. 22:1-23. Jacob had accomplished a large part of his journey and was in the northern part of the land of Gilead when the angry Laban overtook him. From there he proceeded southward and soon came to Mahanaim in Gilead, where he had his second comforting vision of angels—two hosts of them as his guards on either hand—and from the two hosts he named the place.

V. 22. "And he rose up that night." This praying and the disposal of the caravan across the Jabbok must have carried Jacob well into the night. And then, in his loneliness, in the darkness, the uncertainty, the great anxiety for himself, his loved ones, and the fruits of his long toil, Jacob's conscience, that had gone to sleep during the two decades in Mesopotamia, woke up with a start.

An Aroused Conscience.—Some men seek to quiet their consciences, which is like buying an alarm clock and then smothering its sound in a feather pillow.

It would be as foolish to pull up all the danger signals where people are skating on the ice, or smash all the red lights in the semaphores.

"What a strange thing is an old dead sin, laid away in a secret drawer of the soul! Must it some time or other be awakened with toils, until it comes to life again, and begins to stir in our consciousness, as the dry wheat animalcule, looking like a grain of dust, becomes alive if it is wet with a drop of water?"—Holmes. That is just what happened to Jacob.

"Wrestling in Prayer."—This strange event is often used as a model for our prayers, and rightly, if the terrible earnestness of that midnight struggle is alone considered. We are to "come boldly unto the throne of grace," "with all perseverance." "If you don't want a thing, don't ask for it. Such asking is the worst mockery of your King you can insult him with."—Ruskin. We are to pray as Luther prayed in great earnestness, for the bedside of the dying Melancthon for an hour, and returned home, when the recovery of the reformer for his splendid later years was assured, saying to his wife, "God gave me my brother Melancthon back in answer to prayer."

Jacob's Reconciliation with Esau.—Genesis 33. Jacob must have been wonderfully strengthened in spirit, though worn in body, by his midnight struggle, and his fears must have given place to a great peace. Nevertheless, he continued his wise preparations to meet Esau. He arranged his family, putting in the rear, as the safest place, those whom he most loved, Rachel and Joseph. Then he manfully went forward alone to meet his wronged brother. Seven times he bowed to the ground before Esau, as if acknowledging the superiority which he had stolen from him; but if Esau had come in anger, the sight of Jacob seemed to bring back the happier period of their innocent boyhood. Impetuously the injured brother ran to meet him, and in a eager embrace assured him of forgiveness. Esau even offered generously to return Jacob's present, but was prevailed upon to keep it. He turned Jacob to accept an armed escort, but this Jacob firmly refused, perhaps with a lingering suspicion of his brother, but more likely because Jacob now felt God to be sufficient protection. Jacob speedily found a good place for winter quarters, and established himself in peace.

1. "If you fear God and believe that he is with you, God will prosper your plans and labor; but never make that an excuse for saying in your hearts, like Jacob, 'God intends that I should have these good things; therefore I may take them for myself by unfair means.' The birthright is yours. It is you, the steady, prudent, God-fearing ones, who will prosper on the earth, and not poor, wild, hot-headed Esau.

2. "God sees in every Jacob more than Jacob sees in himself."—Joseph Parker. If the most crooked stick will only submit to the carpenter, he will bring it out straight at last.

COLUMBIA High Grade Tobacco Guano

COLUMBIA GUANO COMPANY,
Norfolk, Va.

Has stood the most severe of all tests—the field test. Ask any tobacco planter. For sale everywhere.

This man bought a supply of tobacco without acquainting himself with the distinctive taste of SCHNAPPS Tobacco, which has the cheering qualities that gratify his desire to chew, and at less expense than cheap tobacco.

SCHNAPPS has been advertised in this paper so that every chewer has had an opportunity to get acquainted with the facts and know that drugs are not used to produce the cheering quality found in the famous Piedmont country flue-cured tobaccos, and that SCHNAPPS is what he ought to chew. Still there are chewers who accept other and cheaper tobaccos that do not give the same pleasure.

Some day they'll get a taste of the real Schnapps—they'll realize what enjoyment they've missed by not getting SCHNAPPS long ago—then they'll feel like kicking themselves.

SCHNAPPS is sold everywhere in 5 cent cuts, and 10 and 15 cent plugs. Be sure you get the genuine.
